Local Affairs.

W. S. Brooks is the duly accredited Agent for this Paper.

St. James' Church, Bolivar, Tenn.
Services on every Sunday and on all the Holy Days by the RECTOR, W. C. GRAY.
The hour for opening Sunday School is 9 o'clock A. M. Morning Service on Sundays 10:30 A. M. and 4 P. M. Evening Service on Sundays 7:30 P. M.
On Holy Days—Lenten season—9 A. M. and 4 P. M. Services twice each Wednesday and Friday during Lent. 6:30 P. M. The seats of this Church are ALL FREE.

M. C. R. R.—Trains going north pass here at 12 M., and make close connection at Jackson with cars on the Mobile & Ohio road. Trains going south pass here at 2:30 P. M. At the Junction close connection is made with passenger and freight trains on the southern division of the road that go through to Canton, and there connect with trains to and from New Orleans direct. Time from Bolivar to New Orleans, 33 hours. Connection is also made with trains on the Memphis and Charleston road running east and west of the Junction.

Notice to Subscribers.
I am directed by the publishers to say to subscribers to the BULLETIN who have not paid in advance for their paper that with the beginning of the second volume (August 18th, next), all names on our lists who have not paid, will be erased. Persons whose names come under this head are earnestly requested to come forward and pay up. It is hoped that every one will attend promptly to this call.

With the beginning of the new volume no name will be entered upon the subscription books without the cash or its equivalent. The publishers are compelled to adopt the exclusive cash system from the fact that printing materials and labor demand the cash, and it is impossible to meet these demands if they allow credit on subscriptions, job work and advertising.

Subscribers in town whose papers are delivered by the carrier, if not paid in advance, will be called on monthly, and required to pay fifty cents per month.

W. S. Brooks, Agent.
Mr. W. W. McCauley, the efficient Sheriff of our county, has our thanks for his kindness in behalf of the BULLETIN. A few more such workers as Mr. McCauley, and "ye" BULLETIN would soon reach every fireside in the Western District. When an opportunity offers, Dick, we'll "do the thing nice" toward returning the favor.

Crops.—Never before, in the annals of agriculture, have the crops of Hardeman shown such a disposition to grow as at the present time. The recent abundant rains which have visited every portion of our county have infused new life into the hitherto famishing fields of corn and cotton, and now our farmers are beginning to count upon a liberal yield of the great staples. We think we hazard nothing in saying that, with one or two more good rains, the crops of our county, this year, will equal in quality, if not in quantity, those of any previous year for some time past. A favorable fall is all that is necessary to insure a good cotton crop.

We learn that the Rev. John N. Waddell, D. D. L. L. D., president of the University of Mississippi, will visit our city on the 3d of August next. The doctor is making a tour of West Tennessee, for the purpose of acquainting our people with the advantages to be derived from sending their sons to the University of Mississippi—an institution scarcely second to any in the country, and which offers any young man desiring to study for the ministry of any denomination, or any young man who is not able to pay for tuition, is furnished with lodging and tuition fees gratis. The doctor will preach in the Presbyterian church on Friday evening the 3d inst. His great reputation as a learned man should secure him a full house.

PLEASURE.—Now that our country friends have finished work in their crops, a spirit of enjoyment seems to have taken possession of the people, especially the younger portion of them, and we hear of barbecues, picnics, fish-fries and pleasant gatherings all over the country. On Wednesday, 25th inst., a very pleasant affair came off at "Sweet Gum Spring," in District 12, and we learn everything passed off pleasantly. The woods thereabout rang with the sweet notes of Bent's fine old violin, while the young folks in spite of the hot weather, kept step to its music from "sunny morn to daisy eve." The good folks round about "Sweet Gum" know how to get up a barbecue. We remember to have attended one there in 1859, the 4th of July, when our young friend "Jenkins" in such eloquent language pictured the sufferings and heroic deeds of our ancestors in maintaining the Declaration of Independence, and in establishing this "glorious government," "the best the world ever saw." We remember how he called upon us to come up and swear upon the altar of our country, "for her to live, for her to die." We remember in what glowing terms he spoke of "our Union," and how he denounced those who would attempt to sever it. We thought then that "Jenkins" would be one of the last to raise his arm against his government; but alas! a change came o'er the spirit of his dreams, and in less than two short years, we saw him—a dashing rebel soldier.

TRACKS, BUT "NARRY BAR" TRACKS.—Quite a commotion was stirred up in our usually quiet little city, on Monday afternoon last, by some persons who had been fishing in the river, and who had discovered "bar signs" some mile or so below the railroad bridge. The cry of "bar" "bar!" was passed rapidly from one to another till the whole community was alive with the "bar" fever. A Yankee corn doctor or patent churn and washing-machine vender could hardly have attracted more attention than did "Antony," who was giving his account of the "bar" tracks. Old hunters looked dubious, while the younger and more enthusiastic were of opinion that Bruin was actually about. After all the facts of the discovery had been told over and over again, and a thousand and one questions had been asked and answered, the crowd dispersed into smaller squads, each one selecting a shady spot, where bears, panthers, beavers, and "sich like" became the universal talk. A party, however, was soon organized, and arrangements and agreements made and entered into for an early and desperate attack upon the intruder next (Tuesday) morning. Bright and early next morning the party began to assemble at the previously appointed rendezvous, armed, equipped, and provisioned for a day's scout. Dogs innumerable, (not one of which could have told a bear from a hummingbird,) guns, pistols, horses, men, boys, and one or two freedmen—all partaking alike of the prospect of sport. A few minutes' ride brought the party to the place designated by the guides as where his bearship had crossed the river. Ye local couldn't go with the party, nor did he wish to go; didn't think bears were good to eat this season of the year, and even if they were, we are so tender-hearted that we can never eat anything when our hands are imbued with its life-blood—never! ugh! never! Dismounting—some wearing countenances aglow with excitement, "eager for the fray," whilst others, with lunched cheeks and quivering frame, their teeth imitating the lively clatter of the sweet-noted pecker-wood, their knees and ankles imitating the cadence at a Spanish fandango—(this latter information was handed ye local in a dream)—examination was commenced and pursued in right good earnest. "Here he goes!" rang out and reverberated through the forest, and such a scramble—some toward the place from which the sound proceeded, anxious to pursue the trail, some made back tracks for the river, and some commenced ascending the trees, under the impression that the animal had been boarded in his den, and would soon be "sloshing around" amongst his tormentors. Closer examination, however, revealed that this sign was where Antony had passed barefoot the day previous. Order was soon restored, and the search resumed with renewed vigor. Several hours were consumed in this search without any discovery except some beaver tracks found near the river bank, which, doubtless was the origin of the alarm. The party returned to town about noon, disappointed but delighted with the events of the day, each trying to shirk the responsibility of the "sell," and all trying to fasten the joke on some one of the party. Quartz, (who is at present absent from the city, or ye local would not venture the assertion,) we believe, was the unfortunate individual who mistook Antony's barefoot prints for "bar" tracks.

Swinebroad & Tate, at their establishment, northwest corner public square, sell low all kinds of dry goods, boots, shoes, hats, ready made clothing, etc., etc. Call on 'em.

Messrs. Hardy & Wilson, at R. S. Hardy's old stand, have on hand a well selected assortment of ladies' dress goods, dress trimmings, hats, bonnets, shoes, etc. Call and see them.

NOTICE.—We offer our stock of summer dress goods at cost for cash.

FLEMING, USSEY & CO.
Messrs. Blood & Co., 361 Main street and 40 and 40 1/2 Monroe street, keep constantly every variety of oil, lamps, tinware, etc., to which they invite the attention of persons visiting Memphis.

Still greater reductions in dress goods at L. C. Elson & Co.

For pictures of yourself or friends, while sojourning in the city of Memphis, call on Mr. Y. Day at his splendid gallery at No. 388 Main street. Day takes 'em wet or dry, sick or well, dr—(hic)—sleated or sober. Go and see his specimens.

GENTLEMEN TAKE NOTICE!—We will sell our remaining stock of summer clothing at cost for cash.

FLEMING, USSEY & CO.

"Sell 'em cheap, and they will buy," is the motto of the well known firm of Adams, Neilson & Co. These gentlemen are all old citizens of Bolivar, and do a general dry-goods and grocery business. Call and examine their goods and prices.

Summer clothing at greatly reduced rates at L. C. Elson & Co's.

Call at Elson & Co's, and see the splendid bargains offered in all kinds of ladies' dress goods, hats, bonnets, dress trimmings, etc. Capt. Harris and Bent Crisp wield the yardstick and seissors to the infinite delight of all who buy goods from them.

The summer season is fast drawing to a close and our summer goods are not all sold, we therefore offer extra inducements to cash buyers in that line.

FLEMING, USSEY & CO.

Jerome Hill keeps well supplied with the best of everything in his line of business. Sugar, coffee, molasses, fish, salt, meal, flour, bacon, lard, pickles, fruit, confectionaries—in fact everything usually kept in grocery stores always on hand, and will be sold as low as can be purchased anywhere. Give him a call.

If you are really in want of bargain in all kinds of goods, call on Elson & Co.

J. & G. Warren, at Bills & Hill's old stand, south side public square, have on hand a splendid assortment of groceries, provisions, confectionaries, wines, liquors, tobacco, cigars, etc. The bar is kept well supplied with the best of liquors, from which John mixes the most refreshing draughts.

Ladies' fine sewed shoes $1.50 a pair at L. C. Elson & Co's.

Messrs. Harkins & Durrett have on hand an assortment of dry goods, embracing some splendid patterns of ladies' dress goods and trimmings, which they are desirous of closing out to make room for the extensive fall stock in view. They will give you good bargains and fine goods.

Gent's fine linen shirts $1.75 at L. C. Elson & Co's.

Fleming, Ussey & Co. continue to offer goods as cheap as the cheapest. Fox is chief of the yardstick at this establishment. They have on hand a good supply of wooden ware, hardware, ovens and oven-hides, which they will close out at reduced prices. Go and see these articles; Tommy Coates will show them to you.

Gent's fine sewed calfskin boots at $7.50 a pair at L. C. Elson & Co's.

When you are in Memphis, go to C. C. Cleaves & Co.'s book store, corner Second and Monroe streets, and examine the splendid collection of books, stationery, etc., with which they are teeming, and which they are offering to so great advantage to the purchaser. This is a substantial house, and worthy the patronage of all and everyone wishing anything in their line.

For tinware, stoves, stove-trimmings, etc., we direct the attention of persons visiting the "bluff city," to the establishment of Messrs. Choate & Co., No. 232 Front street. These gentlemen pay particular attention to orders from the country, and will take great pleasure in attending the wants of everyone who may be pleased to visit them or favor them with their orders.

We know the firm of Elton & Co. are selling their goods very low, as they are making preparations to bring on a heavy Fall stock and must sell their summer goods to make room for it, call on them.

We direct attention to the card of Messrs. Miller, Jones & Co., in another column. They have a splendid assortment of groceries, wines, liquors, provisions, tobacco, etc., which they will sell at the lowest market rates. Mr. T. B. Adams, formerly of this place, is a member of the firm. Call on them when you go to Memphis—No. 322 Front street.

Ladies' fine enameled collars and cuffs at L. C. Elson & Co's.

One of the oldest establishments in the Western District is the mammoth hardware house of Messrs. Orgill Bros. & Co., corner Front and Monroe streets, Memphis. Machinery of every kind, farming implements, hardware, foundry ware, etc., etc., of every style and of the best quality and most-improved patterns always on hand. Give them a call.

Katzbach's music store is at 317 Main street, Memphis, where can be had anything in the music line. Sheet music of the latest publications and from the best composers always on hand, and every style of instrument from the best manufacturers for sale at the lowest rates.

A BARGAIN.—Mr. Jerome Hill offers for sale his store house, one door south of the Court house. A bargain may be had for cash, as he is determined to sell. The building is comparatively new, has a good basement, and is every way well adapted for most any kind of business.

HARRINGTON & CO.—This house keeps the greatest variety of articles needed by the planters and housekeepers. At this establishment you can buy anything from a cedar pencil to a complete outfit for parlor, chamber or kitchen. Dry goods in any quantity or quality, sold at killing prices. Call and examine.

At Sherwood's old stand will be found the new firm of Messrs. Gray & Wilkersons. This is a new firm, in which are the names of two young gentlemen well-known in this community. As will be seen from their card in another column, their stock is well selected, of the finest order of goods, and will be sold at the lowest cash prices.

SOUTHERN ENTERPRISE—FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF IRON SAFE MANUFACTORY IN MEMPHIS.—We copy from the Appeal the following review of the laboratory of Mr. A. O. Shultz, which is also endorsed by the Public Ledger:

"Having known Mr. A. O. Shultz for a number of years, and being personally convinced of his great superiority in his business, we take pleasure in copying from the Appeal of the 17th, the following favorable notice of his establishment: 'We yesterday dropped in at our old friend, A. O. Shultz, 119 Jefferson street, whom we have known as a practical locksmith, fire and burglar proof iron safe maker, machinist and general iron worker, for thirteen years past. Taken in his line of business, he is certainly the right man in the right place.'

"Self interest, as well as self respect, demands our earnest encouragement of Southern manufacture, upon which our local success depends. It is hoped that neither the reader nor the subject of our notice will misconstrue our purpose in any other than a motive to offer those local manufacturing resources in our midst, that constant encouragement upon whose success ours so much depend. We are dependent on Northern manufacturers, for want of properly encouraging manufacturers at home. Let us but do our duty, and we shall soon see manufactures of every description spring up in our midst. Though things coming from abroad are most sought, there is no reason why they should always be the cheapest and the best. Would those great manufacturing interests in the North, or elsewhere, become so widely known, popular or prosperous, had not their own local townsmen, press and surroundings personally contributed to their support? We think not. We understand from the gentleman to whom we refer, that he has long cherished the idea, being a thorough master of his trade, of opening a manufactory for making and repairing all kinds of fire-proof iron safes, etc., but has heretofore failed for want of facilities, which are now being developed. We found on hand many splendid fire-proof safes finished, many in a process of construction and many which had been sent in for repairs. Most of our bankers, railroad men, steamboatmen, merchants and others have spoken in the highest terms of commendation of the specimens of work turned out by this manufacturing establishment, and will no doubt endorse, recommend and encourage Mr. Shultz in his praiseworthy enterprise. In this, as in all other interests of a similar kind, we should always encourage home manufactures, when furnished as cheap and in the same perfection as when furnished from abroad.

Mr. Shultz refers any one wishing anything in his line to the following well known and reliable gentlemen: D. A. Shephard, E. M. David, Spring Bank of Memphis, German National Bank, E. D. McClure, Murphy & Cash, Merchants National Bank, Col. D. White, W. B. Greenlaw, Odd Fellows' Lodge, Chalmers & Lee, Royster & Trezevant, Piser Miller, Winter & Foster, J. T. Frank & Co., F. W. Smith, Gayoso Savings Bank, Commercial Bank, Elder & Farnsworth, D. B. Mallory, Tennessee National Bank, Col. Sam. Tate, R. C. Brinkley, Goyer & Stratton, Kortrecht & Craft, Waddell & Boyd, R. P. Walt, Johnson & Kiek, J. B. Cook, and many others.
